

University of Southern Indiana

Founded in 1965, the University of Southern Indiana enrolls nearly 11,000 undergraduate and graduate students in 70 undergraduate majors, 10 master's programs, and one doctoral program. The campus of this comprehensive public university is on 1,400 acres just outside of Evansville in southwestern Indiana.

The University offers study-abroad opportunities in more than 50 countries, and is host to international students from around the globe.

USI also serves more than 15,000 individuals annually in continuing education courses, noncredit workshops, conferences, and seminars.

The University is competitive member of NCAA Division II and the Great Lakes Valley Conference with 15 varsity intercollegiate men's and women's sports. In 2010, USI Men's Baseball team won the NCAA Division II National Championship.

Fast Facts:

Enrollment: 10,820

Serving students from 89 counties, 43 states, and 60 other nations.

90% of recent USI grads work in their field or a satisfactory field.

Women: 61%

Men: 39%

Minority: 10%

Student to Faculty Ratio: 18:1

Alumni: 30,500+

About 74% of USI's graduates remain in Indiana.

More than 100 student organizations on campus.

Evansville is an easy drive from Indianapolis, Louisville, Nashville, and St. Louis

www.usi.edu

